

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO WASHINGTON MUSIC LOVERS

Washington Symphony Concert.

The Washington Symphony Orchestra will give its fourth concert of the season Tuesday, March 10, at 8:15 o'clock at the National Theater. The indications are that this event will prove to be even more successful than the preceding efforts of the orchestra, which has had a remarkably promising career. With a conductor like Mr. De Koven and such capable musicians who lend their time toward making the Symphony a permanent affair, there is every reason to believe that the effort to keep the orchestra through next year will be repaid by success.

The orchestra has been compelled to work unusually hard in studying up the program for the coming concert. Several weeks of study were spent on the compositions to be played with Mme. Fanny Bloch-Zeissler, and when it was announced that she could not appear the musicians redoubled their efforts in working out those selections to be offered by Hugo Heermann, the German violinist, who is to be the soloist Tuesday afternoon.

It is pleasing to know that Herr Heermann is to play the celebrated Beethoven concerto, in which he is said to eclipse his rivals in interpretation. Hugo Heermann is the rage in Europe, although he is little known in this country, for the reason that only recently has he been able to come to America. The program for Tuesday afternoon will be as follows:

Overture, "Taming of the Shrew" (first time in America), Arthur W. Wright; concerto in D major, Beethoven; "Peer Gynt Suite," opus 46, Grieg; "Scene de la Sardas," (dedicated to Hugo Heermann), Hubay; "Lohengrin," prelude to act 3, Wagner.

Lelia Livingston Morse to Sing.

Mary A. Cryder announces a song recital by Lelia Livingston Morse, mezzo soprano, of New York, in the New Willard banquet hall Friday afternoon, the 27th instant. Miss Morse gave a delightful recital at the same place last spring, and her recent work with the Choral Society confirmed the good impression she then made.

Washington Saengerbund Concert.

The Washington Saengerbund will give a public concert next Sunday night at the National Theater. There will be a chorus of seventy-five voices and an orchestra of forty musicians, who are to be assisted by two well-known singers from New York in Mrs. Shannah Cumming and Leo Schultz. Mrs. Cumming has been conspicuous in musical affairs in New York this season, where her flexible and musical voice has won her a host of admirers.

Mr. Schultz is regarded as one of the foremost cellists on the concert stage. It will be remembered that Mr. Schultz expected to play at one of the public concerts of the Saengerbund last season, but through a mistake in booking his engagement he was forced to send a substitute for the Washington concert.

Henry Kander, musical director of the society, is in charge of the program for the coming concert, and much interest is being manifested in the event, which promises to be up to the standard set some time since by the Saengerbund.

To Celebrate Pope's Jubilee.

There will be a special observance of Pope Leo's jubilee tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's Church at 11 o'clock when an appropriate sermon will be preached and the choir under the direction of the organist, Armand Gumprecht, will sing the following program: Mass, "To St. Cecilia," Gounod; "Veni Creator," Gounod; offertory, La Valse; post communion, hymn to the Pope.

Next Thursday the usual services of Perpetual Adoration will be conducted at St. Patrick's. There will be a mass of exposition at 7 o'clock a. m., and the blessed sacrament will be exposed all day. Services are to be held at 4:30 in the afternoon, at which a short instruction will be given by the Rev. Dr. Stafford.

Germania Mannerchor.

The Germania Mannerchor will give a concert tomorrow evening at National Rifles Armory when a composition new to Washington will be sung. This is the "America" of D. Meunier, which is to be sung by 4,000 voices at the Baltimore Saengerfest next June. The United Singers of Washington are to go to Baltimore to assist in the concert. A steamer will be chartered. At the concert tomorrow evening the society will be assisted by Miss Weber, soprano, and A. Christiani, pianist.

The Rebek Orchestra.

One of the successful musical organizations of Washington is the Rebek Orchestra. H. W. Weber, director, which was organized four years ago and now has a membership of fifty. The orchestra has frequently donated its services to religious and fraternal organizations, and on March 12 a section of the orchestra will assist in the services at Luther Memorial Church. Rehearsals are in progress for the second annual concert to be given next month at Odd Fellows Hall.

Musical at Gunston School.

An interesting and enjoyable musical was given Friday evening at Gunston School, under the direction of Enrico Gargiulo. The program was furnished by pupils of Mr. Gargiulo, including members of the Harmony Club, an organization enlisting the services of some of the best known mandolin and guitar performers in Washington. Those in the club are Mrs. R. E. Carney, Miss L. E. Mortimer, Miss A. T. Lyon, A. P. Johnston, R. E. Carney, and E. L. Howes.

Mr. Gargiulo, who is styled the Padervald of the mandolin, played Raff's "Cavatina" and Silvestri's "Serenade" with much skill and intelligence. The program was as follows:

March, "Welcome to the Bride," E. Gargiulo; selections from opera "Carmen," Bizet; Chevalier Gargiulo's mandolin and guitar class; "Cavatina," Raff; "Serenade," Silvestri; Chevalier Gargiulo; waltz, "Flowers of May," Bellegu; "Barcarola," Montie; Chevalier Gargiulo's mandolin and guitar class, Miss Beulah Beverly Chambers, accompanist.

Anton Van Rooy Song Recital.

The song recital by Anton Van Rooy, under the auspices of the Choral Society for Friday next, has aroused great interest.

Mr. Van Rooy was little known in Washington when he sang in Schumann-Heink's place here last spring. His success lies in his musical voice and his thrilling and intense interpretations. It is a marvelous voice—strong, fresh, and delightfully shaded, and every attracted attention far and wide in Germany, where he sang all the great Wagner roles before coming to America.

He is still a young man, having been born in Rotterdam in 1876. When a boy Van Rooy possessed a high soprano voice, and sang in a church choir of his native city. He was educated for a business life, but studied singing with Julius Stockhausen, at Frankfurt, and Miss Bech, at Berlin.

He gave song recitals all over Germany, and it was in 1895, after a concert in Heidelberg, that he made the acquaintance of Frau Tode, a daughter of Cosima Wagner. Frau Wagner was so impressed by his performance of "Wotan's Farewell" that she invited him to take part in the Bayreuth Festival for that year. He sang the part of Wotan with great success, and was engaged at a later festival, singing the part of Hans Sachs and the Flying Dutchman.

He has sung at the opera houses of Berlin, London, and other places, and in concert at London, New York, and in France, Austria, and The Netherlands. His first appearance in the United States was at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, December 14, 1898, as Wotan. He has also sung the parts of Kurwenal, in "Tristan and Isolde," Wolfram, in "Tannhauser," and Escamillo in "Carmen."

The Carroll Institute Choir.

The Carroll Institute choir is meeting with much encouragement from the local music public. Despite the numerous Lenten services last Wednesday evening there was a large attendance at the rehearsal. During the intermissions solos were given by William Clabaugh, Mrs. John L. Chase, and Nellie O'Hare. The growth of the organization has been rapid and the public may anticipate with interest the first musicale to be given after Easter.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the young Russian pianist who appeared here early in the season as soloist with the Washington Symphony Orchestra, will return here for a single recital at the Columbia Theater Wednesday afternoon, March 13. When American concertgoers first awaited the debut of this young Russian pianist two years ago it was with a feeling of that uncertainty which must always be sensed in connection with an artist who has never been heard before in this country.

In Gabrilowitsch one is conscious of art in its most subtle and fascinating form. Since his first tour in America Gabrilowitsch made his first appearance in Paris, and in that art center he succeeded in carrying all before him. After his public recitals he was detained for several months by appearances in the most exclusive circles of Paris, and during all last winter, was the social lion of the most brilliant salons of France, which distinction was won purely and wholly by his art.

The choir of the Church of Our Father was reorganized last Sunday under the direction of George Lawrence, with Mrs. Orphella Hart, organist. The present personnel of the choir includes Miss Julie L. Wilson, Mrs. George Lawrence, Miss Louise Lumsden, Miss Virginia Steele, Miss V. E. Painter, Mrs. Angela Shackleford, Miss A. E. Hazleton, Mrs. Charlotte Marshall, Miss Little Cunningham, Mrs. Julia Singleton Hunter, Miss Olga Krumpke, H. A. Harding, Archie Waiser, Dr. W. Grant Anderson, George Lawrence, Will A. Hopkins, W. G. Dickson, G. A. Chapman, Randall Cox, Charles Kelley, C. A. Wright, and John J. Kidd.

Mrs. Marie Maenlebach Richmond, a sister of the late Lizzie Maenlebach, will sing "Open the Gates of Thy Temple" at the offertory today at the Church of Our Father. Other members of the musical program will be "Gloria," Mozart; "Savior, When Night Involves the Skies," with baritone solo by Will A. Hopkins, and "Nunc Dimittis," Schaeffer.

Coleridge-Taylor's well known composition, "Hiawatha," will be given in Washington next month by a choral society organized here for the purpose of presenting the work. The society was formed a year ago, and is made up of a large number of colored singers. It is their purpose to present Coleridge-Taylor's celebrated work, with the assistance of an orchestra made up of Washington's best known musicians. The soloists will be brought here from other cities, and the event promises to be one of unusual interest. Rehearsals have been in progress for many months, and every effort is being made to have the recital of "Hiawatha" prove a notable event.

Georgetown Orchestra Concert.

The next concert by the Georgetown Orchestra is to be given at the Columbia Theater on the afternoon of March 20, and will devote its proceeds to charity.

ity. The beneficiaries will be the Junior Republic and the Society of Associated Charities.

In the eighteen years of its existence the orchestra has steadily grown in efficiency, and each year finds it stronger in public favor than the preceding one. Mrs. H. Clay Browning will be the soloist at the coming concert, for which the following program has been arranged: Overture "Der Freischutz," Weber; aria from "Queen of Sheba" (orchestra accompaniment), Gounod; Mrs. H. Clay Browning; symphony in D minor, op. 44, Robert Volkmann; (a) allegro petto; (b) andante; songs, selected, Mrs. H. Clay Browning; "Gypsy Suite," (a) valse Melancolique "Lonely Life," (b) Allegro Di Bravura "The Dance," Menuetto "Love Duet," Tarantella "The Revue," Edw. German.

Good cloth is only good anchorage ground for the details of master making. It's workmanship that makes the Coat fit; makes it hold its shape; gives it style and individuality. You can tell a Saks-made Coat as soon as you see it. A TAILOR MADE IT.

Catering to every man as we do, we have what each man wants. It this "Fit Reform" principle of ours accomplished nothing else than this one feature it would still give us vast prestige. Our assortment of styles is consequently immense; but so is our patronage. The quibbles over cost are not manifest in a single one of our Coats. They cost all they need, to be perfect garments of their grade.

We believe we've made men more exacting in their Clothing expectations by our painstaking; but we've made them more discriminating and more appreciative of the superiorities of Saks-made.

Fashion leaves it much to you this season. There are jaunty little Short Coats; and flowing Long Coats, with or without belted back; and Medium length Coats—in Houspuns, Coverts, Cheviots, Viennas, Worsteds; silk lined, serge lined, Italian lined.

RECITAL FOR WOMAN'S ARMY AND NAVY LEAGUE

William T. Carlton to Appear in Musical Entertainment.

A musical entertainment for the benefit of the Woman's Army and Navy League, will be given next Thursday afternoon, in the New National Theater, commencing at 4:15 o'clock. William T. Carlton, who is well known to the amusement-loving public will give a song recital from the prominent musical composers of England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, of the eighteenth century. Mr. Carlton was for years at the head of the famous Carlton Opera Company. Following the recital will be a concert by the Marine Band.

The Woman's Army and Navy League has been working for the past fifteen years for the benefit of the enlisted men of the army and navy. In this time much good has been accomplished in the way of lessening the hardships and temptations that surround the lives of the soldiers, sailors, and marines. Four years ago, this league established what is now known as the "Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines' Club" and has had charge of it up to the present time. The clubhouse, 317 C Street northwest, was purchased for $9,000. Three thousand dollars of this amount remains to be paid. At the clubhouse there is a piano, pool, and billiard tables, writing tables, a library, and practically all that tends toward giving the enlisted men the means of wholesome entertainment. Coffee, and other non-intoxicating beverages, and rolls are served. There are five sleeping rooms and nine beds, all at the service of the enlisted men. Any man may stay all night and have coffee and rolls in the morning at the comparatively small cost of 25 cents.

The Woman's Army and Navy League wished to pay as much as possible of the debt on the clubhouse ($2,000) at this time, and for this purpose have engaged the services of Mr. Carlton. The following are the patronesses of the league: Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Dewey, Mrs. Darling, Mrs. Heywood, Mrs. Corbin, Mrs. G. C. Reed, Mrs. English, Mrs. Ludington, Mrs. Lodge, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Kelton, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Richey, Mrs. S. P.
